Fundación Ronsel

We work in a socially responsible way to facilitate employability by promoting entrepreneurship and self-employment.

This comprehensive program empowers Galician returnees to reintegrate successfully, pursue their entrepreneurial ambitions, and contribute to their personal and professional growth, as well as the revitalization of their communities.

The program, with majority female participants, offers personalized assessments, workshops, and supportive networks with a gender-specific focus.

We employ a hybrid online-in-person approach, and offer entrepreneurship support for green businesses, to encourage job creation in eco-friendly sectors.

The programme was created to support Galicians and their descendants returning to Galicia, facing challenges such as cultural differences, recognition of qualifications, lack of support networks and difficulties in accessing housing and the labour market.

What makes this programme unique is its comprehensive and personalised approach, which offers support tailored to individual needs, encourages entrepreneurship, and promotes social integration and gender equality, involving a collaborative network of government agencies and associations.
